A Heartfelt Thank You for Making the 179th Founder's Day Celebrations Truly Memorable

Dear Parents,

Warm greetings from Sanawar!

I trust that this finds you and the family in the best of health and good cheer!

As we reflect upon the celebrations of our 179th Founder's Day, I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to all of you for gracing the occasion with your presence and for the warmth, encouragement, and appreciation you extended to the School.

Founder's Day is a deeply cherished and anticipated milestone in the life of Sanawar—a moment when we come together to celebrate a remarkable legacy, honour the vision of our founders, and reaffirm our collective commitment to the ideals that have guided this great institution for nearly eighteen decades. Your presence added immensely to the spirit of the occasion and made the celebrations all the more spectacular.

The enthusiasm and pride with which you witnessed the students' performances, the ceremonial traditions, and the many facets of school life were a source of great encouragement to the entire Sanawar family. Your generous words of appreciation for the efforts of our students, teachers, and staff mean a great deal to us. Behind every performance and every moment on the Founder's Day stage lay countless hours of dedication, teamwork, discipline, and perseverance. Your recognition of these efforts is both humbling and deeply rewarding.

It is truly heartwarming to share that the appreciation was much more than a formal word of praise as many of you specifically highlighted what you liked, to the students and staff as well as to me. Though generous praise was showered on the Parade, the School concert and the tattoo; the 'ring of fire', the girls band in the tattoo, the inclusion of girls in the school band in the Parade, the mixed formations in the gymnastics display, the crisp marching during the Annual Athletics, the creative exhibits et al – everything was noted and complimented.

Therefore, to reiterate, at Sanawar, we believe that the true strength of our institution lies in the enduring partnership between the School and its parents. Your trust in us, your continued support, and your shared belief in the values of integrity, courage, compassion, and excellence inspire us to strive continually towards making the Sanawar experience meaningful and enriching for every child.

As we celebrate 179 years of an extraordinary journey, we remain mindful of our responsibility to preserve the timeless traditions of this institution while preparing our students to meet the challenges and opportunities of a changing world with confidence, character, and conviction.

Thank you once again for being an integral part of this memorable occasion and for strengthening the bonds that unite us as one Sanawar family. We look forward to your continued association and support as we carry this proud legacy forward into the years ahead.

With warm regards and sincere gratitude,

Ruchi P. Datta
