Dear Students

Greetings from your home turf of Sanawar!

I am positive that all of you must be enjoying your holidays to the maximum, with a healthy blend of relaxation, recreation and revision!

I write this letter to you to get you to rewind to two beautiful initiatives of The Lawrence School, Sanawar, then to amalgamate them and finally create something unique.

The initiatives are 'Campus as a curriculum' and creative writing. Therefore, I urge you to use the campus as an inspiration and compose original poems, which we will then collate into a poetry book. I believe and I am sure that you will agree too, that the campus at Sanawar abounds in points of inspiration – from the unforgiving slopes, the stately deodars, the grand chapel, the quaint post office, the commanding Turkish cannons and umpteen other historical landmarks to the flora, fauna and most importantly your unique experiences in School.

So, I urge you to put on your thinking caps, let your creative juices flow and put pen to paper to compose heartfelt and original poems. However, just a word of caution, steer clear of AI.

Send in your neatly typed poems, alongwith your complete name, grade and your photograph to poetry@sanawar.edu.in and wait for the magic to unfold.

Look forward to a deluge of ingenuity.

All the best!
